

THE REGIONAL ENERGY EFFICIENCY NETWORK FOR TEXAS AND OKLAHOMA

JOIN SPEER

SPEER is a collaborative network of industry partners who shape the vision, message, and activities of the only organization specifically focused on growing markets for energy efficient technologies, products and services in Texas and Oklahoma.

A GROWING FORCE

This region has massive potential for market penetration of energy efficient practices, products and services. SPEER was formed in 2011 as a public purpose, mission driven, industry supported, non-profit educational partnership, devoted to increasing the understanding and uptake of energy efficiency in these two states. Membership dollars are leveraged by foundation and government grants to support SPEER's projects and programs.

THE VOICE OF ENERGY EFFICIENCY

Business speaks loudly in our region, and the business voice for energy efficiency has never before been organized in this way. SPEER is fast becoming the industry resource for policymakers, professionals, and consumers in Texas and Oklahoma. SPEER and its members are accelerating the growth of energy efficiency retrofits and advanced building systems. Your participation will help to quicken the pace.
